

ThinkNimble Labs

Mentor Network

Who We Are

ThinkNimble is a software development agency made of entrepreneurial software developers and product managers. After having a hard time finding a good development team when launching our first company, we set out to build an agency for entrepreneurs that made building software clear and accessible.

Since those days, we've launched apps that have led to success businesses, mentored countless entrepreneurs, and reinvested our success into the startup ecosystem. We believe that anyone can impact their community, and with the right network of support, that impact can make substantial change.

What We're Building

ThinkNimble Labs was created to support the work of companies we admire. It's a place for hustling startups and socially focused entrepreneurs to have a lifeline to technical and business advice. We're not building an incubator or accelerator, we are a network of like-minded individuals wanting to buttress social impact, elevate great ideas, and empower more people through entrepreneurship.

Our team of developers is committed to investing our time in 2021 to mentor and coach entrepreneurs through their technical objectives, but that is only a fraction of the battle for startups. Oftentimes, the product is the business, so we are looking to create a mentor network to support every aspect of a startup's product launch - marketing, fundraising, sales, go-to market strategy, etc.

How You Come In

As we launch ThinkNimble Labs, we are excited to invite some of our favorite mentors, partners, clients, and friends into our mentor network. We will only be as valuable as the sum of our parts, so we are building a Mentor Network and we know you would make us better.

So, if you should choose the red pill and journey with us, we want to build a space that is valuable for both the entrepreneur and you, the mentor. Our goal is two sided - help the entrepreneur, but also bring our mentors meaningful connections and new business. Your input, feedback, and ideas as we build and grow our network are coveted as we pursue these goals.

What We Ask of Our Mentors

Entrepreneur Meetings: After we meet an entrepreneur, if we think you could help or if an entrepreneur asks for you specifically, we will send you a connection request. We ask that you be available one hour for one connection per month (unless you'd like more).

Webinar: Optional. We would love to further highlight your expertise through a co-branded webinar. We would work together to pick a topic that we can dive into & provide tangible takeaways to participants. These will be recorded for future sharing.

Feedback: Following meetings and webinars, we ask that you send us feedback to let us know how it went and if it was a good match so we can always be improving and providing you meaningful opportunities.

Interested?

We would be thrilled to have you join our mentor network. Please fill out the form below, so we know how you would like to be involved and who you would like to connect with. Once we receive your response, Katie McKenzie, our Growth Manager, will be in touch about scheduling an introductory call with our team.

The Form Below